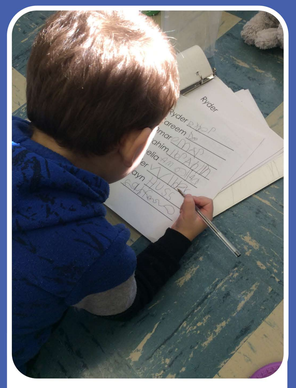
The value of great play skills



The accomplishment of writing your own name is a success story on its own, and to add the task of writing out the names of others is an even bigger achievement

We see no boudaries, just possibilities

For the very first year we have a cohort of three-year-olds in our Pre-K program. These 3-year-olds are joining us two days per week for the first year and full-time for year two.

Now offering a playgroup at the North Hub Community room.

Assisting parents navigating community supports.

When children co-construct their environments, wonderful things can happen
